Corporate Profile

Raphael Famuyiwa

Group Head, Investment Portfolio Manager

Leadership Overview

Raphael Famuyiwa is a dynamic finance leader with over eight years of experience in portfolio management, derivatives trading, and quantitative research. As the founder and Portfolio Manager of Ocean-Ways Partners (2023–August 2025), he built a successful investment firm, leading a team to outperform benchmark indices across major markets in 2023 and achieve a 20% ROI through strategic restructuring. Since August 2025, he has served as Group Head of Finance at Prodigy Investment, where he oversees financial strategy, drives advanced analytics initiatives, and enhances group-wide portfolio performance.

Innovation and Expertise

A pioneer in financial technology, Raphael independently designed and developed “Mcmarket,” a cutting-edge, pre-launch software for options and derivatives trading, completed in August 2025. This functional platform integrates Monte Carlo, Black-Scholes, and Binomial models with real-time API data, streamlining strategy execution and improving efficiency by an estimated 20%. His expertise extends to R-based backtesting, financial modeling, and API integration, underpinned by hands-on experience trading options, futures, and equities, driving a 10% annual portfolio growth during his tenure at Garanzia Investment Limited (2018–2023).

Global Impact

Raphael’s career spans Nigeria, the United Kingdom, and international markets, with notable achievements including leading a strategic initiative for an acquisition supporting SMEs in securing UK government funding post-COVID-19.

His entrepreneurial vision and technical acumen have positioned him as a leader in quantitative finance, with a proven ability to grow client bases by 25% and reduce portfolio volatility by 15% through innovative hedging strategies.

Current Focus and Evolution

Raphael is currently transitioning partly into quantitative research, strategy, and analysis, leveraging his technical and analytical skills to drive data-informed investment decisions and innovative financial solutions.

Education and Credentials

Raphael holds an ACCA/MBA qualification earned through the integrated program at the London School of Business and Finance (LSBF, 2013–2016), complemented by a Bachelor's Degree in Marketing from Madonna University, Okija, Nigeria (2008–2011). He is currently pursuing CFA Level 1 (planned for 2026), further enhancing his strategic and analytical expertise.

Vision and Commitment

With a relentless focus on innovation and client success, Raphael is committed to advancing financial performance through technology and leadership.
